

ELECTRIC CHAIR

Last words? You mean, before you make me meet my maker? Let me just say, faith is a fickle pickle philosophically. Belief is based in cantankerous candor. A rude illuming. Like one man dueling. Not a spark in the dark but one lost to the full light of day.

For full monologue contact me at me@johnmcgie.com.