

SELF CARE

Self-care. I don't care. Not really. Look at me. Up here being the expert. Teachers must never learn the lessons they teach. If they did they'd move on. Operational ignorance. Not by choice – conscious choice. I just know to know the things I'm showing you...to use the them, well, then, I'd be gone. How could I stay when everything I say points the way to me being out of here? This place is a shithole and I don't want to be a hypocrite so I don't look at it. I'd rather be ignorant than a hypocrite. I'd rather not know what I'm showing you. I'd rather not look at it. My life is shit. I know it. But why would I want it pointed out? Truth is an asshole.
