

STREET PERSON

I can see that you're thinking. You're thinking that I ought not to be here. That's what you're thinking. You're thinking I'm something you don't want to see. I'm something that should go away. And I'm thinking you don't care. You don't care where. Just as long as it's not here.

For full monologue contact me at me@johnmcgie.com.