

WALKING CHEMICAL REACTIONS

We are all just walking chemical reactions. Distractions of our own existence. And the insistence that we are more than a bubbly bunch of biological gunk has sunk us toward certainties that are certainly uncertain and more often than not dangerous. It's like putting yourself under a microscope and seeing yourself staring back.

For full monologue contact me at me@johnmcgie.com.