

HERRING

JANE Look Henry. It's a Toffee Nosed Throat Wobbler.
HENRY So it is. How amazing.
JANE I wonder what it's doing 80 feet under the water.
HENRY Scuba diving.
JANE So it is. What a remarkable bird.
HENRY I wonder where it got the equipment?
JANE Rented it, I suppose.
HENRY I suppose.
JANE It must have taken lessons.
HENRY According to my book "Deep Sea Diving Birds of the Pacific Rim" it says the Toffee Nosed Throat Wobbler is a natural swimmer.

Sirens, bells and whistles.

JANE Oh Henry. We're under attack.

Knock at the door.

HENRY I'll get it.
JANE Make sure they wipe their feet before they come in.

For the entire skit contact me at me@johnmcgie.com.