

PLAY BY PLAY

- TODD Well, Bernie, the weather's turned to the player's favor.
- BERNIE It sure has you puss permeated phlegm sack. We can expect to see some fine play from these two teams.
- TODD The last time these two met we saw very aggressive play at both ends of the field.
- BERNIE Right you are you vomitus odorous cat licker. And there's no reason not to expect the same today.
- TODD You know, Bernie, I'm remind of a 1976 Shakespearean marksmanship competition in which the late Sir Walter Greenwood ate a turnip. I don't really know why I said that but there you are.
- BERNIE And the teams have taken the field.
- TODD The new uniforms are quite striking, Bernie. Though restrictive, these off-the-shoulder numbers sure give the crowd something to get behind.

For the entire skit contact me at me@johnmcgie.com.