

THIEVERY

ROBBER I'm terribly sorry to be bothering you like this.
MAN That's quite all right.
ROBBER Usually I try not to wake people up when I break into their houses.
MAN Quite all right. These things happen.
ROBBER Why don't you just go back to sleep. I shouldn't be but a moment.
MAN Would you mind turning out the light?
ROBBER Yeah. Sure.

Click. A series of crashes and bangs. Click.

ROBBER I'm afraid that just doesn't work. I can't see anything.
MAN How about your flashlight?
ROBBER I don't have one.
MAN You don't have one?
ROBBER Somebody stole it.
MAN Somebody stole your flashlight?
ROBBER I'm human too. I'm a person. I get robbed just like everybody else.
MAN I didn't mean to offend.
ROBBER People just assume that because I steal from people that people won't steal from me. Well, let me tell you, that whole "honour among thieves" thing long gone. This is the new millennium mate. No free rides.
MAN Unless you steal the ride.
ROBBER That doesn't make them free. There's overhead. Cost of labour. Insurance premiums...
MAN Union dues...
ROBBER Yeah. You want to talk about robbery.

For the entire skit contact me at me@johnmcgie.com.